NUCLEUSCARE

Promoting independence through virtual connection

Full of features that help you live independently and stay connected, NucleusCare uses a live, two-way video on a tablet style device to keep individuals connected to their care team. Remote support team members can drop in for video check ins, schedule reminder messages, and perform wellness checks.

The provider website makes setting up new staff and clients, managing alerts, and creating custom messages efficient and effective.

Easy to Use

- Provide video support through a mobile app on your smart phone or tablet. Alternatively, use a web brower enabled with a camera, microphone, and speaker to connect with those under your care.
- Send messages to individuals or groups to streamline communication to the individuals you serve.
- Create custom reminders for individuals to assure daily tasks are completed.
- Receive custom alerts based on guidelines set up by your team.
- Check in on your clients by making audio and video calls.
- Ensure the people who need immediate care receive it right away.

Enhance Care

The live, two-way video allows individuals to continue receiving personal care and connection while supporting their independence.

NucleusCare enables providers and caregivers to streamline client care on the go, managing multiple people on one platform. Optimize schedules and tasks, respond proactively to client concerns, and create accountability through custom reminders and alerts.

Natural Support Connections

With connection and communication at the center of NucleusCare, a separate Family App allows family and friends to video call their loved ones in a simple to use platform. If enabled, anyone connected through the Family App can upload photos to the NucleusCare device. Stay connected with the people you love most.
